How do students apply?

The Travel Grant is available to full-time students attending a clinical placement in the UK or studying abroad as part of their course.

How do students qualify?

Students may be eligible if they're studying a full-time higher-education course and getting student finance that depends on their household income.

Students must also be:

- attending a hospital or other premises in the UK as an integral part of their medical or dental course. They won't get the Travel Grant if they're eligible to apply for means-tested bursaries or awards from the Department of Health. This doesn't cover any attendance involving residential study; or
- attending an overseas university or college for at least 50% of any academic term. This period of study can be compulsory or optional. The Travel Grant isn't available to students on a work placement abroad unless the student is on the Erasmus+ scheme and is undertaking study, work, or combined work and study periods as part of their course.

How much can students get?

The amount of Travel Grant a student can get depends on their household income. It covers reasonable travel expenses during an academic year, which means that the student must buy the most cost-effective tickets using the most economical and practical form of transport. For example, taking the train instead of flying and buying standard-class instead of first-class tickets.

The first £303 of travel costs is disregarded, which means this is deducted from the amount of Travel Grant the student applies for.

The Travel Grant may be further reduced depending on the student's household income and where they live and study.

Travel Grant

If eligible, students can claim for:

- up to three return journeys between the UK and the overseas institution they are studying at during a full academic year abroad
- any travel costs associated with clinical training where attendance at a hospital or other premises is necessary
- the cost of a child/children's fare between the UK and the overseas institution if it's necessary for a lone parent who's also a student to take them abroad
- mandatory medical insurance, visas and medical expenses for the purpose of studying abroad
- a rate of 24p per mile if they have to travel by car

How do students apply?

Once the student has applied for their student finance and they are eligible to apply for a Travel Grant, they will automatically be sent the correct forms to complete.

Students on a clinical placement in the UK must complete the Clinical Study Travel Expenses Form.

Students who are studying abroad must complete the Travel Abroad Expenses Form and get their university or college to complete the Course Abroad Form.

They can apply for the Travel Grant at any time during the academic year and there's no limit to how many forms students can submit.

What evidence do students have to send?

Students must provide evidence to support their claims for travel expenses. They'll only get paid their Travel Grant if they send us all the evidence we ask for.

This must be photocopies of proof of payment, not just an itinerary or quote. For example, it could be an e-receipt for payment of flights. Receipts in a foreign language may need to be translated at the student's own cost.

How do students get paid?

The Travel Grant is paid directly into their bank account on an ad-hoc basis so students won't have to wait until their next instalment of student finance to get their money.
